REMARKABLE DUEL.

Two Tennesseans Fight a Fearful Duel—Both are Backed by Their Friends.

Peoria Journal.

From Nelsonville, Ohio, comes news that the most remarkable duel on record was fought there by George Brooks and Scott Love, employees at the Helen furnace. Some time ago they became engaged in a quarrel, which originated at a country dance, and lasted until now. They are both young men. Brooks had been married little less than a year, and two days ago his wife bore him a child. Brooks celebrated this event by getting on a spree, and returning to the furnace met Love, and the old feud was rekindled. Some hot words were used, and a fight ensued. Brooks picked up a piece of cinder and struck Love on the head, and the fight ended for the time. Love promising to renew hostilities in the morning. When morning arrived, Brooks was informed that Love had purchased a revolver, and he, too, prepared himself with a five-shooter, and proceeded with his friends to the furnace. There he met Love, and a crowd of backers. Both were prepared for battle, and it did not take long to find sufficient cause, followed by their respective cliques. The two principals walked along together, calling each other hard names, until Love finally picked up a brick and threw it at Brooks' head. This Brooks warded off, but received a severe bruise on the elbow, and at the same time, he drew his new six shooter .32-calibre revolver and fired. The ball entered Love's abdomen, but he did not fall. "Give it to him back," yelled one of the crowd, and Brooks also drew and fired. There were probably fifty men circling around the contestants, each urging his favorite to fire, and each armed with a knife and pistol. The principals needed no encouragement, however. Long-buried hatred had burst forth in the bosom of each, and, frenzied by the excitement, they fully determined to settle the matter there and then. The crowd yelled and the fighting continued unabated. Love was firing a little faster than his opponent, but Brooks' aim seems to have been more steady. The men were standing at short range, each firing alternately and in comparatively good order. Finally Love began retreating. Brooks following him and still firing. Love backed as far as the engine house corner and, again standing his ground, emptied his revolver at his opponent, who fell with a bullet in each leg. The crowd surged around the fallen man, who was vainly attempting to reload his emptied pistol. Brooks also called to his friends for a knife to remove the shells from his weapon. Both men were now hors de combat, but each was anxious to continue until one or the other would acknowledge himself defeated. The friends of the parties now declared the battle ended. The combatants were taken from the field. Love is dying. Brooks is under arrest.

The Beauties of New Hampshire.

Springfield Republican.

Stilson Hutchins of the Washington Post has written the Manchester Union about the attractions of New Hampshire as the "nation's sanitarium," and in order to do something practical toward rendering the State attractive, offers three prizes of $300, $200 and $100 for the best four miles of road that shall be constructed in the counties of Merrimack, Belknap, Carroll, and Coos, between May 1st and September 1st.

The points to be considered shall be road bed, picturesqueness, and improvement over present condition. He also wants a fund raised to send forth lecturers, out of whose mouths and by aid of photographs and sketches of every attractive part of the State, there may be impressed upon "outside barbarians" the long neglected and yet always majestic lakes, rivers, hills and mountains of the good old Granite State.

How He was Snared.

Henry Stull became seriously involved in St. Louis through his boastfulness. While drunk, late at night, he entered a bar-room and declared that he had just killed a man. "I'm harmless as a turtle dove when let alone," he said, "but when they attacked me I'm a terror. Three men attacked me in the street, and I killed one of them with a knife. You'll see it all in the papers to-morrow." He showed the knife, washed it and his hands carefully, and made all the men and women in the place promise solemnly not to betray him. His story was pure fiction, but it happened that a man had been stabbed to death in the same neighborhood. Stull was arrested, and it was with difficulty that he proved his innocence.

A Losing Joke.

A prominent Physician of Pittsburgh said jokingly to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill health of her inability to cure her "try Hop Bitters!" The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters, from which she obtained permanent health. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.

THAT INJUNCTION SUIT.

The Times of Carson is the only paper which desires the defeat of the Asylum bill passed at the late session of the Legislature. That journal is consuming with a desire to ape its London contemporary, and when the Carson Times thunders, every other State paper lays down behind a log. The following editorial fire-cracker was set off by the Times yesterday:

When the bill to authorize this outrageous swindle on the State was brought up in the Legislature, the Times argued that aside from being a "steal," pure and simple, it was unconstitutional. The Legislature and the Governor—who is naturally biased in favor of Reno—thought differently, or pretended to, and authorized the gigantic grab. The feeling in Reno is of a mixed nature. Many of that aspiring town's leading citizens are of the opinion that the law may justly be attacked and relegated to oblivion. As to its injustice there can be no question, and we do not believe that the Courts will be able to find the unrighteous measure constitutional.

If the Times ever "argued" on any proposition we are misinformed, although there can be no doubt that it is an able interpreter of constitutional law. Will the Times please say what would be the effect of declaring that the State has no further borrowing capacity? Can we also be informed who are the leading citizens of Reno who unbosomed themselves to the Carsonite? There is no difference of opinion whatsoever in Reno upon this "unrighteous measure," and we are encouraged to believe that the Supreme Court, although very much frightened, may not be altogether intimidated by this righteous editor, whom Diogenes failed to find. The Times also declares that it disapproves with the press of Nevada in its view of the pending suit. The announcement is unimportant, except as showing the eccentricity of the Times. If this is deemed a merit, it is very important to the Times that the fact should be given the greatest publicity.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Austin Reville says: It is very strongly hinted now that Jacob Klein of Carson, brought suit to restrain the State officers paying out any moneys from the school fund for building an insane asylum at Reno, in the interests of Dr. Clark of Stockton, California. It is looking very probable that Klein is being used by some one or more persons who are going to make money out of this restraining business. When the bottom facts are reached, and it is found that this is the case, the "niggers in the fence" should be shown up in their nefarious business.

When Conkling assailed the administration, Democratic editors peered over the top of their exchanges to see if Garfield had a backbone. When Garfield pulled off his coat and showed his spinal column; they said American politics had sunk to a very low plane. If it was desirable to satisfy Democratic editors it would be a very difficult matter.

Congressman H. F. Page is preparing a bill which is similar in its provisions to the fifteen-passenger bill vetoed by Hayes. Page thinks his bill will secure all benefits granted us by the Chinese treaty, and is confident that Garfield will sign it. He thinks that early in December the bill will be on the statute book and in force.

It is rumored that Harry George, author of "Progress and Poverty," will take charge of the editorial columns of the New York Herald. This is probably untrue, as a well-known editor in Genoa has had the matter under consideration for months.

It may be well to add in view of the fact that locals item in the Times of Carson do not influence the Supreme Court decisions, that many leading citizens regard the utterances of the Times on the Asylum injunction suit as a gratuitous insult to the people of Reno.

The Scurst Prevention.

The Enterprise says: As the Indians who left Gold Hill upon the breaking out of smallpox among them at that place scattered in all directions, to Walker river, Reno, Truckee and down to Wadsworth, we may soon expect to hear of crops of smallpox in those places. It has already appeared at Sutro, where some of the Indian women first went.

The most competent authority on disinfectants decides that asafetida is the most potent of all, and a sure proposition to stand off the smallpox. Six ounces of it, pure and alone, placed in three small bags, and worn on the breast and in each armpit will not only keep off the smallpox, but cure it even after it starts in. A teaspoonful of carbolic acid poured upon each bag every morning to soften the asafetida adds to the effect materially.

Verdi Items.

The father of Pat Henry, of Katz & Henry, is visiting his son at Verdi. The old gentleman hails from Missouri.

The Verdi Planing mill is only running during the day and after hours.

After the report that R. P. Ferguson's body had passed over the dam at Camp 20, B. F. Bacon and several assistants searched the river from Verdi up to the bridge. No trace of the body was discovered.

THE ASYLUM.

What Governor Kinkead Thinks About Clark's Injunction Suit.

Governor Kinkead, a member of the Board of Asylum Commissioners, was in Reno last night, and in conversation with a GAZETTE reporter, said: "I would only be too glad to be relieved of the care and trouble which will be connected with the building of the new Asylum. Still, I think I understand the intent of the Legislature and the will of the people, and that certainly says the Asylum should be built."

Rep.—What do you think, Governor, of the famous injunction suit?

"I don't think much of it, I assure you. I think it is a plain attempt to thwart the will of the people, and for a pecuniary reward."

Rep.—Are there any Carson people interested in the suit?

"I know there are not, because I have taken pains to enquire in regard to it. Klein is merely a figure-head, and I know of no one in Carson who sympathizes with the movement."

Rep.—Who is backing the suit?

"I do not know, nor can anybody know from direct evidence. To my mind there is no doubt but that the GAZETTE has been correct in its remarks upon the subject, and that Dr. Clark, of Stockton, is the instigator of the suit."

Rep.—What would be the effect of a decision against this bill?

"It would cripple many departments of the State Government, and there would be a ruinous discount on State warrants."

Rep.—Is there anything in the suit?

"I think not, except to delay the building and extend Clark's contract."

Rep.—Why has not the suit been transferred to the Supreme Court by consent?

"Because counsel for plaintiff would not consent. Myself and Mr. Deal desired that the matter should be transferred, and the entire Board was of the same mind. Mr. Varian, counsel for plaintiff, would not consent to any proposition we could make. Plaintiff will probably lose his suit, and if my theory is correct that Dr. Clark has instigated the action, retaliatory measures ought to be adopted."

Another Comet.

About two o'clock on the morning of the first of May, Professor Lewis Swift, Director of the Warner Observatory, at Rochester, N. Y., turned his telescope to the constellation of Andromeda and discovered a bright comet, moving in a southerly direction. The new comet is located in the constellation above named, right ascension, 0 hours, 0 minutes; declination, 37 degrees north. This is the first comet discovered during the present year, and places Prof. Swift in possession of the $200 prize, which Mr. H. H. Warner, the well-known Safe Kidney and Liver Cure man, offered last January for the discovery of comets. Inasmuch as Prof. Swift received $500 for the discovery of the comet of 1890, from the same gentleman, he is at last finding astronomy profitable as well as pleasant. It is not thought that the present comet is the expected one of 1812, although it is in nearly the location from which that comet is expected; nor is there any reason to believe it will have any effect upon the earth, or hasten the predicted coming of the end of the world.

Bovine Bugs.

The hoppers still demand public attention. Holcombe, south of Reno, will turn sheep into one of his fields, and hopes to get a crop from the other. The pests have eaten Steele's grain field. A. J. Smith near Sullivan has also lost one acre of grain in one day. Huffaker and vicinity is also badly frightened. On the lower ranches about the Thomas, Hickman and Blasdel locality there are numerous hoppers, but no damage has been reported as yet. In Washoe valley the hoppers are numerous, and Joe Frey has turned cattle into one of his grain patches. Indian and Sierra valleys are also afflicted. Keep your scythe well sharpened.

Temperance Lecture.

Said a reformed drunkard, in Verdi: "I've got a Reform Club of my own, and I'm President, you bet. I look at a glass of beer as the interest on $3,000 for one day, and consequently the day a moderate drinker like me quits, he falls heir to $15,000, or money enough to hire that sum." A stranger struck the reformer for money to eat on, and broke up the lecture.

DOE DOSED.

Another Good Carson Man Gone Wrong With Lead in His Legs.

This morning about 1:30 o'clock Wm. Seaton heard a queer noise like the fluttering of a hen in the neighborhood of his chicken house. He investigated and found that John Doe was in his chicken house with felonious intent. Seaton hastily returned and got his Scott breech-loading shotgun. Doe had, in the meantime, delivered one chicken to his pal in the alley and reentered the chicken house. Seaton called to him to come out, which the thief soon did, and started for the opening in the picket fence through which he had entered. Doe was making fair progress towards the fence when Seaton, concluding that it was time, pulled the trigger, and landed from fifteen to forty shot in Mr. Doe's back and legs. After that the thief nearly tore the fence down in his frantic anxiety to escape. The premises were carefully examined, and there is no doubt but that the charge took effect where it would do the most good. The stolen chicken came wandering home about daylight this morning. Mr. Doe dropped a bill from the Carson Appeal for six months' subscription. On the document was a summary demand for immediate payment or the delinquent would be published as a Reno man. The doctors will please report any gentleman who seems to be afflicted with lead in the legs.

A Scared Reporter.

A patron of Luigi de la Piazzi's saloon informed the GAZETTE carrier on Saturday that a person named Casaccia had bought out the saloon, and stated that they wished to subscribe for the GAZETTE. Thus, having become a subscriber, it was thought courteous to notice the change. Today a large Italian invaded this office and declared that unless the item was corrected he would fix the d—n fool reporter who wrote it.

The local editor begs pardon in the most apt manner for the item. He has never been in the saloon named, and never expects to be. He does not know anything about the business and don't want to know. The carrier is also in tears.

Narrow Escape.

Yesterday evening T. V. Cecil met with an accident at Bronco which came near ending his life. The train for Reno came past the depot at an unusual rate of speed and Mr. Cecil, fearing that he could not mount the caboose, climbed upon a passing freight car and started back towards the caboose. While going in that direction the train passed over a bridge and one of the timbers struck Cecil on the back of the head, knocking him down upon the top of the car. By good fortune he escaped being knocked off the train or between the cars. His head and face were bruised very badly and he was to day unable to leave his room.

I. O. G. T.

Hopper Mortality.

Dan de Quille, who never saw a grasshopper in his life, has concluded to write them up. The GAZETTE hopes his predictions may be fulfilled. He says: "This year will undoubtedly be the career of the grasshoppers in Truckee Meadows. Nature provides her own remedies for such scourges. Through multitudinous production they seem to breed that which proves their destruction. This season, simultaneously with the hatching of the hoppers, has appeared a spider and a kind of bug, both of which seem only to have come into existence to prey upon the grasshoppers. Also, there has come up out of the ground a hitherto unknown weed, bearing a small yellowish blossom, of which the grasshoppers greedily eat and then fall dead. The ranchmen feel quite satisfied that the immense numbers of grasshoppers that covered the soil last year in some way infected it and caused it to produce this weed in order to rid itself of the poisonous pests, and all are confident that this is the last year of the hoppers. Dame nature has evidently herself taken in hand the work of their extermination."

Truckee Talk.

Charles Fritchie, aged 21 years and 3 months, died in Truckee of rheumatism of the heart on Sunday morning. Fritchie was formerly a compositor in the Republican office.

Mutilated coins bother Truckee about like the absence of coin bothers Reno. Jansen is making extensive improvements in and around his hotel at Independence Lake.

Truckee has induced the Placer supervisors to reduce tolls on the Truckee and Tahoe turnpike, about 25 per cent.

Schaffer's mill has closed down for repairs.

Quail have made their appearance in the woods around Truckee.

Miller is now Superintendent and Pfandler foreman of the Boca Brewing Company.

The Baden Institution.

In connection with the International Hotel on Center street a complete bathing establishment is now in operation. Anyone desiring to practice the virtue which is next to Godliness can at that place get a Sulphur, Electric, Steam Electric, Steam, hot or cold bath etc. A competent physician will be in attendance. Paul Mayer, the proprietor, proposes to make the institution popular.

Breech Loaders.

The guard at the State Prison has been furnished with a new outfit of arms. The reason for the change was in the fact that the guns were of different calibre and patterns. The old guns have been sent to Jerry Schooling for sale. There are Winchester, Sharp and Spencer repeating rifles, and breech loading shot guns. There are nine guns in all.

Roads.

The mountain roads are nearly all reported open and in good condition. From Plumas, Lassen and Modoc good roads are reported. The road to Webber Lake is open, and the various highways about Truckee and this way have all been traveled for some time.

PERSONAL.

James E. Dealey, of Carson, was in town to-day.
Judge Borman of Verdi is in the metropolis.
Louis Jodoin is now very ill at the Arcade.
Governor J. H. Kinkead was in Reno last night.
Hon. H. H. Beck left Carson yesterday, for Bodie.
Louis Berlier went to Walker Lake this morning.
Wm. Thompson, of Franktown, is in town on legal business.
James Gamble, of the W. U. Tel. Co., went up to the Comstock this morning.
Trenmor Coffin, of Carson, was down yesterday on matters connected with the N. & O.
Mr. Lewis, an old Nevada county type, is in Reno. The Comstock is dull.
Miss Mary Toombs leaves Reno tonight for Sacramento, where she will spend the summer with Dr. Dixon's family.
Mrs. A. Benson, of Beowawe, with her two children, expects to start on a trip East on the 16th, where she intends spending the summer.

Novel Fish Ladder.

Tom Hymers made a trip up the Truckee some years ago and found Jack Foulkes' elevator near Verdi. This is an elevator extending from the river, with hooks every three feet. It catches the cord wood in the dam and carries it up to the saw.
"Ah-ha," said Tom, "never saw a fish ladder before. The fish wait their turns and the hooks come along and carry 'em up. How nicely it's arranged."

Susannah Segalada.

T. B. Sanders writes the GAZETTE, from Susanville, under date of May 9th, that it had been raining there all day, and some on May 8th. Total rainfall up to date, 2.20. This rain was a god-send to the high sage lands, as it ensures a good crop. The fruit crop never looked better, and promises an unprecedented yield. The crop is about one month ahead of last year, and cherries and apricots will be ripe by or before July 4th.

Advertising Cheats.

It has become so common to write the beginning of an elegant, interesting article and then run it into some advertisement that we avoid all such cheats and simply call attention to the merits of Hiep Bitters in as plain, honest terms as possible, to induce people to give them one trial, as no one who knows their value will ever use anything else.

A Young Hermit.
Michigan City (Ind.) News.
Adjoining this city to the west, bordering on Lake Michigan, is a long range of very high sandhills, covered with scrub timber and entirely uninhabited, one hundred acres or more. Yesterday old man Forbes went into this uninhabited spot to hunt up hoop-poles, and was suddenly astonished by discovering a young man, apparently, who, on seeing the old man, fled, plunging into a hole in the side of the hill. He was brought here to jail, and on being interviewed related the following story: "Name August Blank; Swede by birth; age, 23; lived many years near Porter station; came here from Chicago in October last; I resolved to retire to the sandhills and lead the life of a hermit." His new home was dug out in the side of the sandhill, with a small aperture for entrance, facing the bleak winds of the lake, the rooms inside being about seven feet square and sided up with slabs. A rude bench was the only furniture. He had constructed a rude stove of pebbles from the sea-shore, with chimney of same material, put together with some kind of plaster. There being no aperture for smoke to escape he was very much colored. A small batch of corn meal was his supply of provender, with no bedding save a blanket or two. For four months he had resided here in voluntary hermitage, and says he will return there when released.

Egyptian Torture.
Egyptian Gazette.
Mohamed Ali's legs were first placed in stocks arranged so that he was compelled to stand, without having the power of moving, for ten consecutive hours. The screws were then applied to his thumbs. This ingenious instrument of torture, which is not unlike a miniature copying press, consists of two plates, each about two inches long and less than one inch wide, the two plates being joined by a central screw. On the inner surface of the upper plate are two spikes about one quarter of an inch long. When the victim has to be operated upon, his thumbs are placed closely parallel to each other, and the machine is slipped on in such a way that when the plates are drawn together by the screw, the spikes are forced through the flesh into the bone. Mohamed was thus tortured, the spikes were driven in on the outer part of each thumb between the joint and the nail. This operation was thrice repeated, each time on a different place, and each time the spikes were forced to the bone. Although the wounds are now healed, his thumbs are numb and almost useless. Finally one hundred and eighty lashes with a korbash were administered on his feet and legs. It is true blood was not drawn, but his feet assumed, both in size and shape, a strong resemblance to two pumpkins.

A Remarkable Dog.
Cochran (Ga.) Enterprise.
Guy Coleman, a reliable gentleman of this place, is responsible for this story. Guy's mother, during last fall, had a colored woman cooking for her who was the wife of Julius Rayfield, a colored newsman on the Mason and Brunswick Road a long while, and now a porter at Brown's National Hotel in Macon. Julius obtained Mr. Coleman's permission, and brought his dog here to remain until his wife would return to Macon, where they claimed their home. The dog was fierce, and it became necessary to keep him chained in the yard. Mr. Harris of Jersup, raised the dog and gave him to Julius, and kept for himself a full sister of Julius' dog in Jersup. About three weeks after the dog was left the sister made her appearance one evening at Mrs. Coleman's front gate and set up a howl to get inside, and when a member of the family went to see about it, the sister, being almost exactly like the dog, was mistaken for him and let in, when she ran for where the dog was tied and the meeting was mutually affectionate. The distance from Jersup to Cochran is 110 miles, and she did not come up on the train, as all the train men say, and it is not to be supposed that Julius had anything to do with her abduction, as he was much interested to get her back for Mr. Harris. She had never been above Jersup before and could know nothing of the whereabouts of her mate, and the instinct, if such it was, that led her to him after that lapse of time and to such a distance is simply wonderful.

Say, for instance, a dog loses his paw, and rooster loses his maw, does it make orphans of them?—Stevensville Herald.
